

A natural choice for soaking up summer days.

The enchanting grey hue in our vintage rattan collection comes from an organic colouring process that takes place over 3 weeks as the rattan strands soak in muddy water, and are then laid out to dry in the sun. The end product is only achieved through time and the elements. The result is a natural, warm colour that will continue to change with the seasons. Our sophisticated range includes a selection of dining, arm and club chairs, the Pascal sofa with storage drawers and charming console options.

Inspired by country villas and holiday escapes where time seems lost and you have found the perfect place to be.
